Dear Graduates,

As you reflect on your years at Essex High, I hope that the images remembered are happy, fulfilling ones.

We have endeavored to provide you not only constructive learning activities to help you find your place in the world; but also opportunities to develop poise, kindness, and courage to be yourself.

You have an exciting present and a challenging future. Face each day so that you are always proud of your reflection.

My most sincere good wishes to each of you.

Yolanda really enjoyed that book!

"It's great being the manager," says Maria, "but believe-you-me it's no easier on the feet."

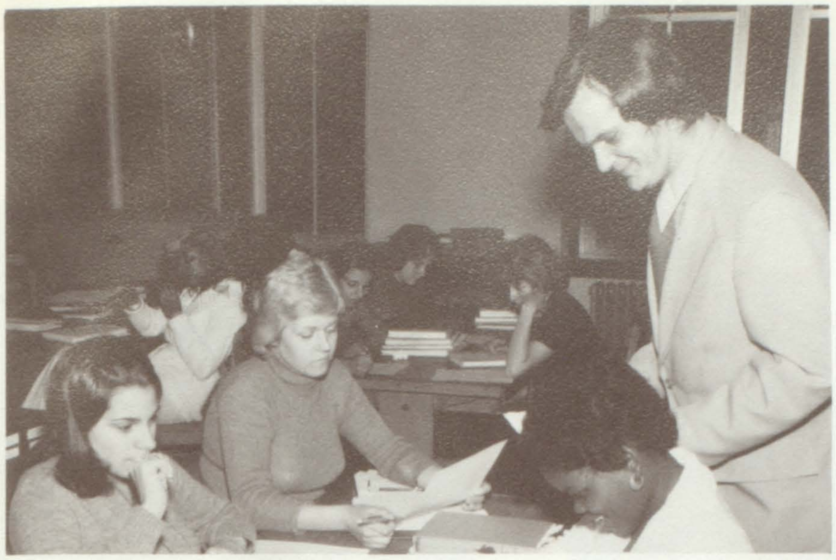

An informal chat with their Homeroom Teacher, Miss Postar.

Smiles for the photographer, courtesy of Margie, Carmen, Cecelia, Deborah.

"Miss Ruberta, may I take this test tomorrow?"

Mr. Helmstaedter explains one of his questions to Rae.

If she pulls my hair once more — KAPOW!

Pensive, bored, ignored, and genuine interest, that's individuality!

Rae and Geraldine

It's just more fun with two or three, not more productive.

The gal in the center, flanked by Susan and Catherine, represents the top saleswomen with a winning total of $1,549.16.

Okay now panda, let's try it one more time for me — Arlene!

That's the trouble with those shutter-bugs Arlene, Elizabeth, Lydia, and Kathy — when they're ready you're not.

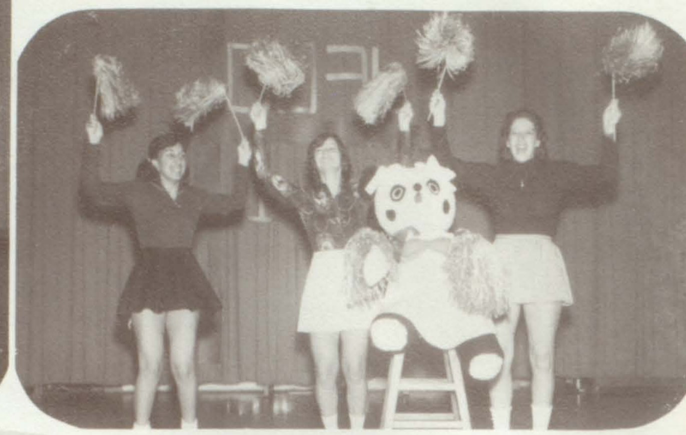

The after-lunch slump, especially on a dismal day.

Oh me, just one typing test after another.

Rehearsing for THE program are gals, panda, and pom-pom. (L-R) Phyllis, Kathy, Angela, Mary, and Joellen.

Hey Rowena, how about a piece for your friend Teresa?

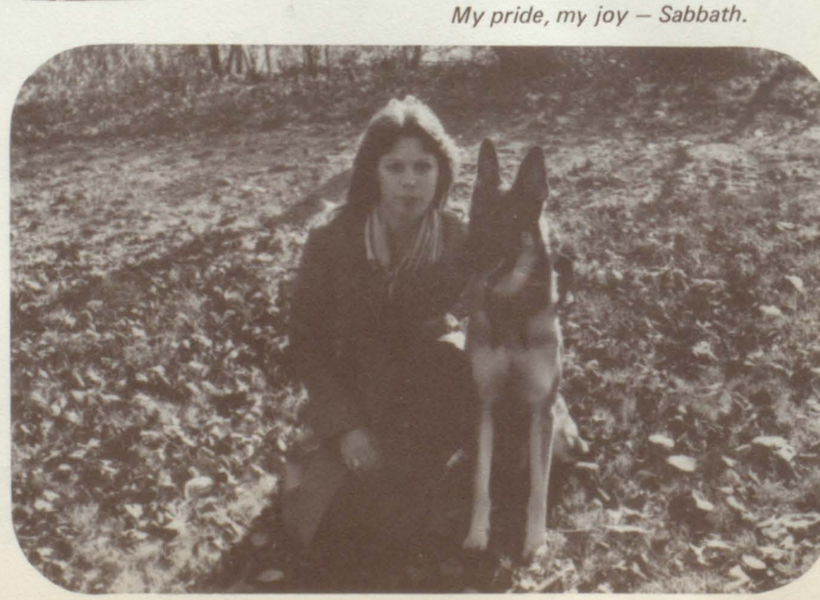

Oops Toni, your "stylus" slipped!

Mrs. Siska instructs Brenda on the Mag-card machine, while Cathy waits her turn.

My pride, my joy — Sabbath.

Go on and eat it Pat, it looks OK to us.

How about that, we get to do the bulletin boards again!

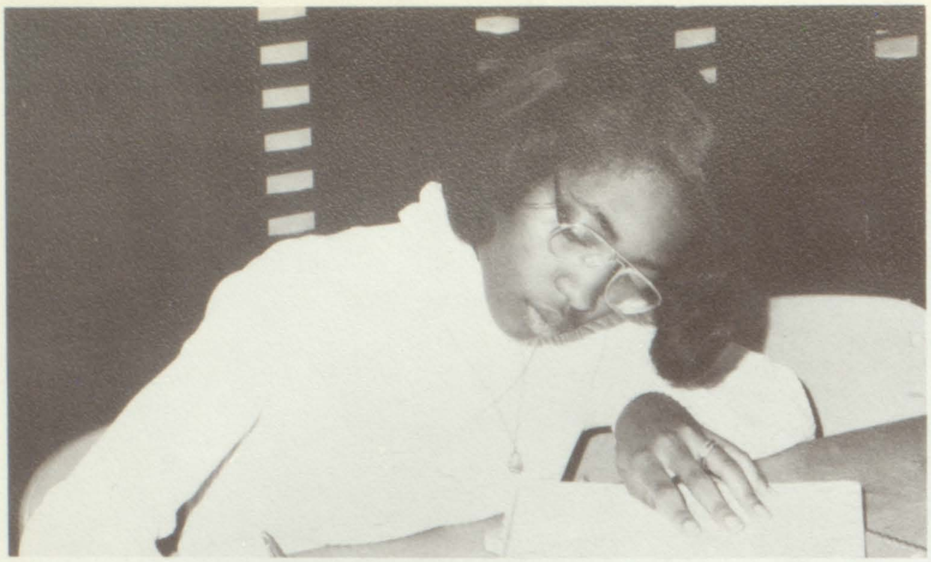

Honest, you really!!!!!

We four – LINDA, PATRICIA, MIGDALIA, and DONNA – on a bus.

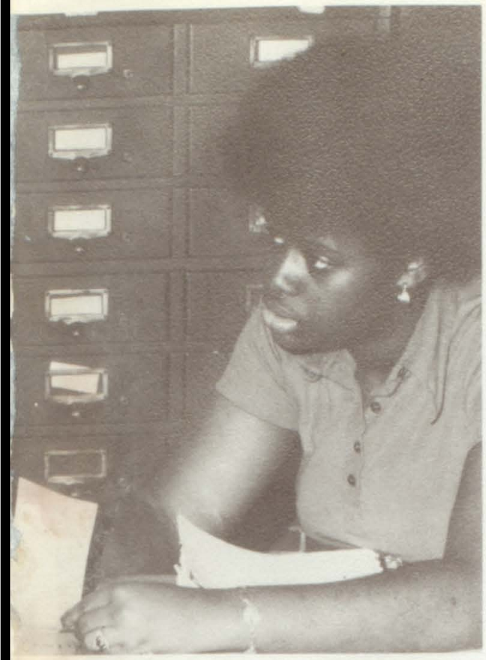

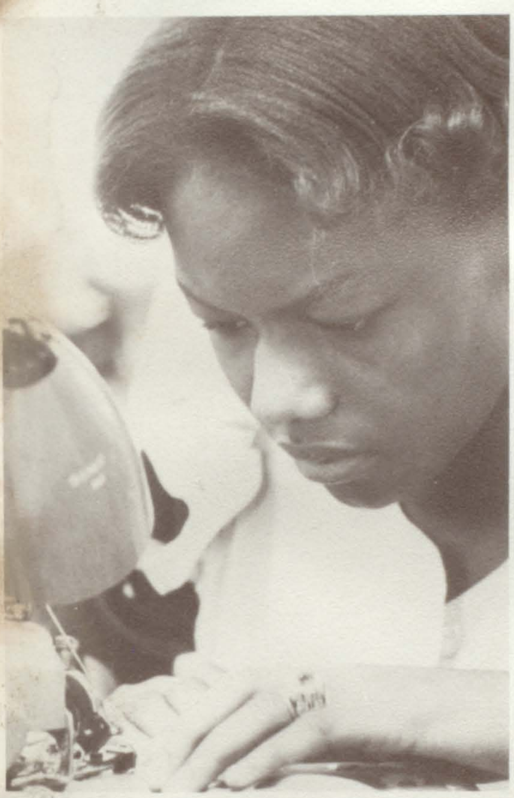

If concentration is the key to success

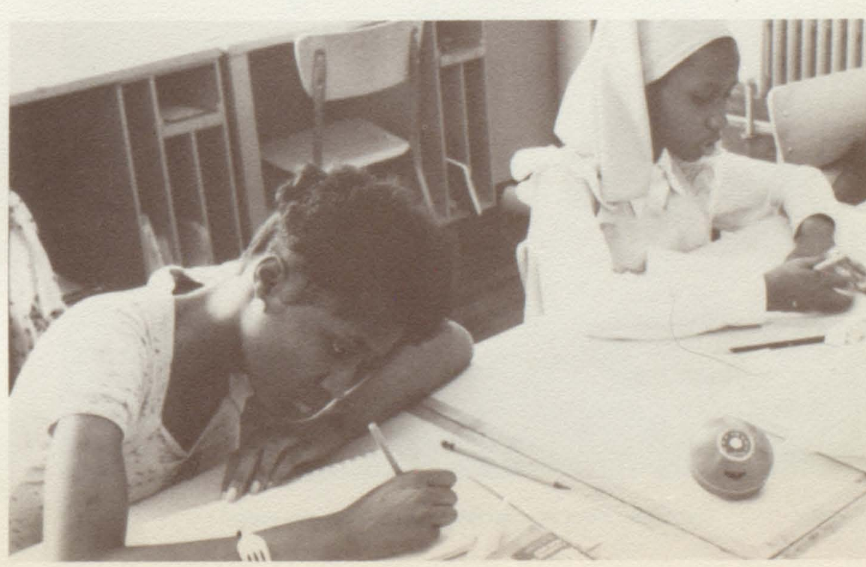

then, they've made it!

The best subject of the day — boys!

A lesson in daydreaming by Lisa Coleman.

What's your hurry Eva, Nancy, and Awilda, you're only going to room 309.

A perfect picture Ovias, for the "I feel good" commercial.

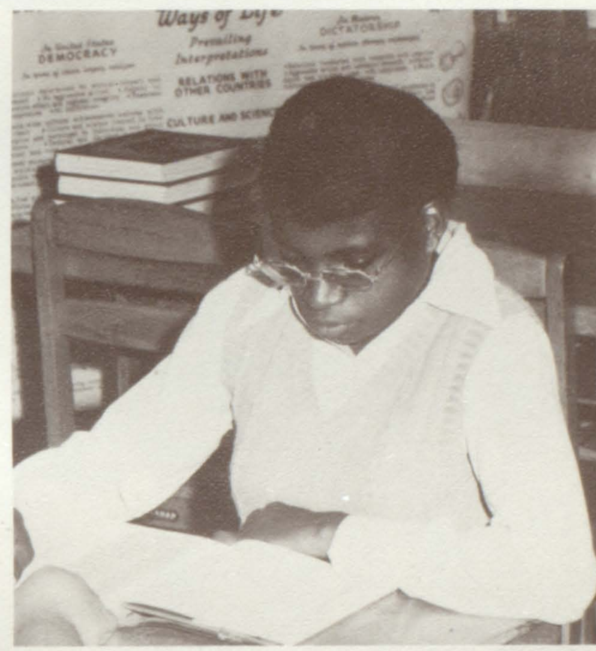

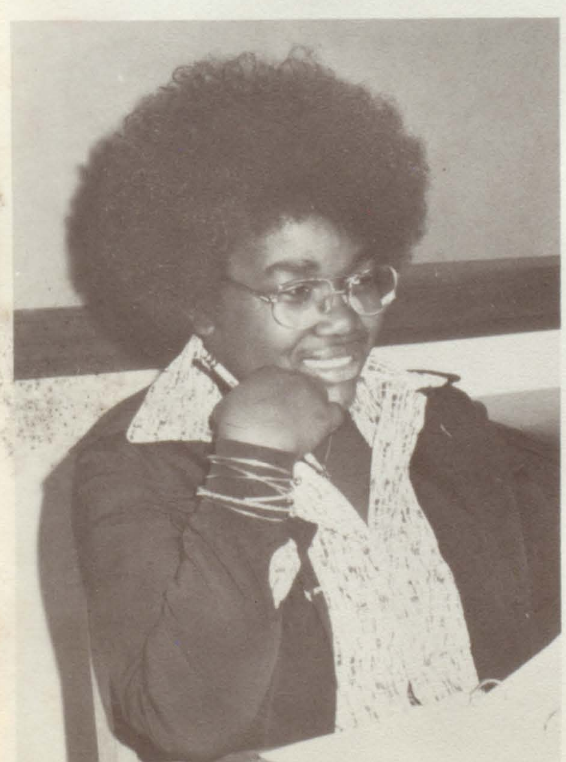

Surprise! Your conversation has just been taped.

Out into the world we go;

Where does it lead?

No one knows.

Maybe toward fortune and fame,

Or maybe toward a life of shame.

But it only leads to the path you follow;

It could be happiness, or it could be sorrow.
